STONY PLAIN'S FINE FAIR DEMONSTRATED PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT OF THAT DISTRICT

Grain Exhibits Showed That Good General Harvest Is Assured—Farmers Have Learned Lesson Of Diversified Agriculture—Fine Livestock Display—Other Sections Well Filled—Sports Program.

STONY PLAIN, Aug. 16.—This fine district fully justified its reputation for productiveness, fertility and skill in farming at the eighth annual fair of the Stony Plain Agricultural Society, which was held today. Favored by perfect weather the event attracted a record breaking crowd and the fair grounds from far and near, a train load from Edmonton adding to the throng, saw an interesting and creditable exhibition as any town in Western Canada can show. There have, of course, been larger fairs, but for quality, fitness and all around suitability it would be difficult to surpass it.

One has got into the habit of recent years of associating Stony Plain with its potato crop and the expectation of the unaccustomed visitor was to see stacks and loads of potatoes as the central feature of the fair. There were potatoes shown, and pretty good ones at that, but the really striking thing about the show was the evidence that the district is going to have one of the best general harvests in its history, particularly as regards its grains and grasses, and also that its farmers have learned the lesson of the value of diversified farming and are raising livestock of such a high standard of excellence that it spells prosperity, no matter what the seasonal conditions may be.

Fine Draught Horses.
What was particularly noticeable in the horses was the fine showing in the draught and general purpose classes. It was not a case of one or two champions and a big bunch of scrubs. In fact, so evenly matched was the general run of competitors that Mr. Gebhardt, the judge, had his hands full in deciding on the winners. The result was apparently determined by a hair, as one might say. The heavy draught animals were also good, although not numerous. In the cattle the dairy was well represented. There was some close rivalry in the shorthorn bulls. Six entries were made for the best dairy cow with a 24-hour milk and butterfat test and C. W. Ibsen, a local farmer, won. It was noticeable that the prize ribbons were distributed all around the district. There were some consistent winners, of course, but there was no monopoly of honors. The sheep and swine pens contained some good stock and there were a few champions, but there was no country where mixed farming appears to be so universally the rule.

Magnificent Grain.
Among the inside exhibits there was none more striking than the display of grain. It is not often that wheat, oats and barley of such a high grade and in such an advanced stage is shown. There were a dozen sheaves of spring wheat in competition. Milling and short oats and barley. Stony Plain is going to have a good harvest if it has nothing else, according to this indication. The timothy is a shade too rank, if anything, but the alfalfa and clover was satisfactory. One exhibitor brought in a sheaf of corn with the ears well developed.

The exhibition of field and garden crops was rather small, due, it was explained, to the fact that the farmers had had in obtaining help and the forward rush which had been brought about by the recent rains after the dry spring. The potatoes were good but not extraordinary and there were evidences of scab, a defect which is not injurious but which spoils the marketable quality of the vegetable. The beets, turnips, etc., were good enough to win prizes anywhere.

Gospel of the Can.
The gospel of canning has evidently been learned by Stony Plain ladies, for the display of fruits and vegetables, appetizingly put up in glass jars, was most attractive. The domestic science department was not neglected and the ladies' work part of the show contained some admirable new work.

One exhibit which positively must not be overlooked is that of the Comet school, taught by Miss D. B. Pattullo, which is a credit to the superintendent of schools of Edmonton, who judged it.

Prize Winners At Flower Show

CUT FLOWERS

Antirrhinum (Snapdragon) 6 spikes.—1 C. Whitton, 2 D. Petrie, 3 of each—1 C. Whitton, 2 H. Payne, 3 F. Cullimore, 4 Asters, 4 white—1 T. Christie, 2 H. E. Soper, 3 Geo. Donnelly; highly commended, C. Whitton.
Aster, 4 mauve or blue—1 T. Christie, 2 W. Gilbert, 3 C. Whitton.
Aster, 4 red—1 C. Whitton, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 T. H. S. Cochrane, 4 Carnation, 6 any color, outdoor grown—1 J. J. Oldridge.
Carnation, 6 any color—1 G. Turner, 2 F. Cullimore.
Clarkia, 12 spikes—1 T. H. S. Cochrane, 2 D. Petrie, 3 F. Cullimore.
Dahlia, 1 double, fancy or show—1 C. Whitton.
Dianthus, double, 12 blooms—1 L. Jennings, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 C. Whitton.
Dianthus, single, 12 blooms—1 T. H. S. Cochrane, 2 C. Whitton.
Larkspur, annual, 6 spikes—1 L. Jennings, 2 G. Donnelly.
Everbearing, best display—1 J. J. Oldridge.
Gladiolus, 4 spikes, any color—1 C. McPherson, 2 C. Whitton, 3 H. E. Soper.
Lavatera (Mallow) 6 spikes—1 F. Cullimore.
Mignonette, 6 spikes—1 T. H. S. Cochrane, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 H. E. Soper.
Marigold, French, 12 blooms—1 C. Whitton, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 H. Payne.
Marigold, African, 6 blooms—1 H. E. Soper, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 W. Perrie.
Petunias, double, 6 blooms—1 W. Perrie, 2 F. Cullimore, 3 J. M. LeFevre.
Petunias, single 6 blooms—1 J. J. Oldridge.
Phlox Drummondii, 6 dis. colors, 3 spikes of each—1 C. Whitton.
Phlox Drummondii, 6 spikes of white—1 C. Whitton.
Phlox Drummondii, 6 spikes of red—1 C. Whitton.
Pansies, 15, not less than 12 dis. colors—1 C. Whitton, 2 J. M. LeFevre, 3 J. J. Oldridge.
Pansies, 12, not less than 6 dis. colors—1 C. Whitton, 2 J. M. LeFevre, 3 J. J. Oldridge.
Roses, two, outdoor—1 J. J. Oldridge, 2 H. Spelman, 3 J. M. LeFevre.
Stocks, two bush, dis. colors, whole plant—1 J. J. Oldridge.

The usual side shows and attractions made life merry for the younger element (and for some not so very young); an excellent lunch was served; there was music by a local orchestra—worked hard and faithfully to make the fair the success that it was.
The judges were: Alex. Galbraith, horses; H. McDowell, cattle, sheep and swine; A. W. Foley, poultry; J. Sutherland, grains and grasses; J. Baizer, horticulture; W. Garven, dairy products; W. Warren, fruits, jams, etc., and house products; W. G. Carpenter, school work; Mrs. H. Brown, ladies' work and children's work. The awards included the following:

HORSES.
Clydesdales, Registered.
Stallion, any age—C. Weidenheimer.
Dry mare—1 C. Weidenheimer, 2 J. McKinley, 3 F. J. Schults.
Champion, any age—1. George Groat, 2 Chas. Freof.
Suffolk Punch.
Stallion, any age—S. J. Deans.
Heavy Draught, 1400 and over, Grades.
Team to farm wagon—1 J. Ducheck, 2 F. J. Schults, 3 years or under, by registered sire—1 P. Schell, 2 A. Burger, 3 L. Schwindt, 4 Ditto, 2 years old—1 J. Kulak, 2 L. Schwindt, 3 P. Schell, 4 Ditto, yearling—1 P. Schell, 2 F. J. Schults, 3 L. Schwindt, 4 Ditto, foal, ditto—1 Thos. Graham, 2 J. Kulak, 3 A. Burger, 4 Champion—1 P. Schell.
Light Draught.
Team to farm wagon—1 L. Goebel, 2 Roy Hagen, 3 Brood mare and foal—1 J. Kulak, 2 L. Hadley, 3 Dry mare and foal—1 L. Schwindt, 2 J. Schell, 3 Schell, 4 Ditto, 2 years old—1 J. Kulak, 2 L. Schwindt, 3 F. J. Schults, 4 Ditto, foal—1 L. Schwindt, 2 J. Kulak, 3 L. Hadley, 4 Champion—1 L. Goebel.

GRAINS AND GRASSES.
Sheaf fall wheat—1 H. Schellenberger, 2 J. J. Schults, 3 J. Schell, 4 J. Schell, 5 J. Schell, 6 J. Schell, 7 J. Schell, 8 J. Schell, 9 J. Schell, 10 J. Schell, 11 J. Schell, 12 J. Schell, 13 J. ## HUDSON'S BAY SALES

FOUND ENCOURAGING

Company Meeting in London Hears Excellent Reports From Canada.
LONDON, Aug. 15. (C.A.P.)—At the Hudson's Bay company's meeting today Governor Kindersley said only three times in the company's history had the land department sales been exceeded. The market for store sales was also extending. It was, he said, quite apparent the back-to-the-land movement was rapidly developing in Western Canada, and was made possible through the wonderful railway expansion of the last fifteen years.
No material increase could be looked for in suburban town lots. He could only hope the unhealthy development of towns would not be repeated.

The directors resolved to institute a taxation reserve fund in view of the heavy liability of the company. A continued improvement was shown in sale also; the policy of building large stores was fully justified. The company today generally stood in a thoroughly sound position.

MONEY AND MARKETS

BUSINESS DUEL

IN WINNIPEG PIT
Trading So Slack That Quotations Were Hard to Get on Wheat.

SOME ASK FOR OATS

Futures Provided Only Life in Session—October Closes Firm.

Winnipeg, Aug. 16.—In the cash trading today there was a still further advance of one cent for some of the lower grades, but the better prices failed to bring out sellers and the business done was small. One exporting firm appeared in the market for oats, but soon withdrew and business was so slack that it was hard to get quotations until just before the close. Flax was dull and unchanged.

There was a fair amount of business for future delivery. Prices manifested an easier tendency except October which was bid up 1/2c above yesterday's close. It was easier at the finish.

Wheat at Chicago fell today below the $2 mark for the first time since the recent series of downturns began. Prices of corn and oats declined. Minneapolis cash wheat was down 1/2c to twenty cents.

Winnipeg cash wheat closed at 24c for No. 1 and 2 Northern and one cent higher than yesterday's close for most other grades. October was 20c, 1/2c higher. October oats closed 25c higher; December 1/2c higher. May 1/2c higher. October flax 1/2c lower. November 1/2c lower.
December 2/2c lower; barley, unchanged.

There was no opening of Winnipeg October wheat in the first half hour this morning. The oats were unchanged to 1/2c lower October at 33c, and 1/2c. There was a bid of 41 on December oats. Flax was one cent lower for October at 32.

Chicago wheat opened unchanged for September at 20c. No opening Minneapolis 91 Cents were inspected at Winnipeg; 27 cent cars.

Over the west generally flax and clear with no rain reported.

AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Bears had the advantage in corn today owing to continued prominence given to peace news and because of reports showing a general favorable crop outlook. Prospective lowering of food costs tended also to handicap the bulls. Opening prices, which ranged from unchanged figures to 1/2c lower, with December at 11 1/2 to 11 3/4 and May at 12 1/2.

Oats were followed by a material decline all around. Influenced by the same conditions as corn, wheat went below $2 for the first time since the recent series of downturns began. Trade remained of an extremely scatter character. After opening unchanged at $2 for September, the market touched $1.99 1/2.

Oats lacked any aggressive support and sagged with other grain. Thrashing returns still showed big yields. New record quotations on hogs made provisions strong. Sellers were scarce.

E. Greenwood, Byron House, Fleet St., London, England

The Liberals at the Winnipeg convention passed a resolution declaring the proposal to pay Mac-Kenzie and Mann for the C.N.R.

stock they have sequestered to be "indemnified." It is all of that, and then some. It is as bare-faced a swindle as the people of this country have yet been subjected to.

As matters stand it seems to be up to Sir Robert Borden to either dismiss Hon. Robert Rogers or dismiss Judge Galt. Either Mr.

Rogers is not a fit and proper person to administer the Department of Public Works or Judge Galt is not a fit and proper person to sit in judgment on the lives, liberties and property of other citizens.

The food controller urges us to eat whole wheat bread. It is said that if all Canadians did so the bread supply of the country would be increased by one-third. If the Government are behind the controller they have the power to effect this tremendous increase in the food supply of the nation by an order-in-council forbidding the milling of white flour.

Papers which a while ago were professing to not be able to understand what was meant by "conservation of wealth" have not been advertising their assumed ignorance so much since the O'Connor report told how many millions Sir Joseph Flavelle had made out of bacon. Seeing the innocent ones have discerned a glimmer of light in one direction at least.

Increased separation allowances for the soldiers' families, and increased pensions for the disabled men and their dependents, are planks in the platform of the western Liberals. They are also proposals which have the hearty approval of every fair-minded person who calculates the rise that has taken place in the cost of living since the present rates were fixed.

As daring promoters of railway enterprise MacKenzie and Mann erly, like others, Sir Wilfrid deferred to the judgment of those who had been entrusted with the direction of the national affairs, and quit.

If Canadians are not eating what the Government wants them to eat it is largely because they can't afford it.

If the spoils of the profiteers were conscripted the allowances to the soldiers' families could be doubled and the country still be money in on the transaction. And why not do it?

If the situation is serious enough to demand that men be conscripted for military service it is serious enough to demand also that every resource of the country other than men be also called upon to do its "bit."

The choice is whether Quebec is to be controlled by Laurier or by Bourassa. Bourassa has controlled it during the past six years.
The result of his domination is shown in Quebec's attitude toward the war. It is time for a change.

President Wilson has had the editor of a St. Paul paper arrested because the paper "cast aspersions by innuendo" on U.S. war measures. Premier Borden's conferees in Quebec continue, not to "cast aspersions by innuendo" only but to incite people to rebellion against a Canadian war measure.

The latest sudden jump in the price of sugar may be dictated by the relations of supply and demand. But it coincides altogether too closely with the opening of the preserving season for most people to believe that without proof. And if it is dictated—or excused—by a shortage in supply, it remains to be asked how far that shortage has been brought about by manipulation, for the express purpose of allowing just such a boost in the price. So far as this part of Canada is concerned the bulk of our sugar comes from the refinery at Vancouver, which has been shut down for months because the employees could not meet the increasing cost of living with the starvation wages paid by the company.
That the company could have increased wages without loss to themselves is a reasonable supposition from the unprecedented prices that have been charged for sugar even before this latest boost, and the conclusion is irresistible that they decided as a matter of deliberate policy to leave the plant idle, let the stock run down, and then use the shortage as a pretext for further boosting the price. It appears to be simply a case in which a monopoly saw a chance to make more money by not operating than by operating. As confirmatory evidence, it may be cited that since the strike began two ships loaded with raw sugar have arrived at Vancouver for the refinery, and were left unloaded for months—were probably unloaded yet, if the cargoes have not even spoiled by this time. It is further stated, on good or bad authority, that the refinery at Montreal has been kept idle for the past six months. Government action, sharp and effective, should be the response to this new and practically prohibitive increase in the price of sugar. The refineries should be nationalized, nationalized now, and operated for the purpose of supplying this prime necessity to the public at prices consonant with the actual supply of raw sugar available.

A Model Young Man.
The old gentleman asked the chance

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability, reserving the right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner.
To receive attention, every inquiry must be clear and to the point, and the information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

A correspondent asks as to the rate of postage which applies to printer's copy, that is news sent to newspapers for publication. Post Office Inspector Cairns is authority for the statement that when the above matter is mailed unsealed, the rate is 1c for two ounces.
Making a Rose Jar.

To the Bulletin: Can you give me the receipt for making a "rose jar" for perfuming a room? N.C.G.
Gather the rose petals early in the morning and lay on a table in a cool, airy place until the dew dries. Then put them in a large stone jar, sprinkling a little salt over one-half inch layers of the petals. Add petals until the jar is full. Cover the jar tightly after morning until enough have been gathered for your purpose. Let stand ten days after the last is put in, stirring every morning. Have an ounce each of cloves and allspice, coarsely ground, and as much broken and shredded stick cinnamon. Transfer the rose petals to another jar and scatter the spices, mixed together, alternately with the flowers. Cover the jar tightly and let stand in a cool place for three weeks, when the contents will be ready for the permanent jar. Have ready a quart of an ounce of mace, allspice and cloves, all coarsely ground, half a grated nutmeg, half an ounce of powdered orris root and a quarter of a pound of dried lavender leaves. Mix all together in a bowl and fill the rose jar with alternate layers of the petals and the mixture. A few drops each of rose, geranium or other fragrant oils should be dropped into the layers as you progress. Over the whole pour an ounce of fine cologne or rose extract. This is sufficient to fill two quart jars or one very large one and it will keep for years. From time to time various sweet things may be added, as a few tuberose or a spray of heliotrope. If the jar be left open for a half hour every day it will fill your rooms with spicy fragrance.

Jiu Jitsu.
To the Bulletin: What is the pronunciation of jiu jitsu, and what does it mean? READER.
The pronunciation of jiu jitsu is "ju-jit-su." The accent is on the third syllable. Both "ji" and "su" are sounded as the "i" in pin, the "u" as in jury. Jiu jitsu is a system of physical training introduced in 1904 by the United States from Japan. Literally jiu jitsu means muscle breaking or conquering with the hands. The system involves not only constant exercise, but also dieting and careful living, and has been practiced in Japan for the last two thousand five hundred years. It is easy to learn and very effective in practical use, enabling the small and comparatively weak to cope successfully with larger and more powerful opponents. Specifically, it is the art of applying the physical forces so that the slightest expenditure of force will overcome the greatest possible resistance. Still more specifically, it is the art of so seizing an opponent with the hands that the force is applied in such manner that it cannot be resisted successfully.

With The Humorists

Pat's Precaution.
Mrs. Casey: "Me sister writes me that every bottle in that box we sent her was broken. Are ye sure ye printed 'This side up with care' on it?" Casey: "O! am. 'An for fear they shouldn't see it on the top O! printed it on the bottom as well."

Very Formal.
"Are you very friendly terms with your neighbor in the department?"
"Well, no. She's rather formal—always sends her card when she wishes to borrow flour, and if she wants both flour and sugar, she sends two cards."

Her Letter.
"Hubby, you know that letter I said I gave you to mail?"
"Yes, my dear; I assure you I mailed
it."
"No, you didn't. I thought I gave it to you, but I gave it to father."

Constant Hot Water.
"I understand your automobile has got you into trouble."
"It's always getting me into trouble one way or another," replied Mr.
Chuggins. "When it runs I get arrested for speeding. When it refuses to run I get arrested for profanity."

Touching.
The Girl: "And can you manage on your army pay, Phil?" The Sub: "Hardly—but do a lot of writing besides."

The Girl: "What kind of writing?" The Sub: "Oh, letters to the gov-nor!"

Saw the Point.
Captain: "You say this man called you a hippopotamus four weeks ago.
Why report it now?" Sergeant: "Because I only need a hippopotamus for the first time yesterday, sir!"

EMBARGO ON ALBERTA GRAIN

Hansard, July 23rd:

Mr. Oliver: I would like to ask the minister in regard to the permission given to the railway companies last winter to refuse the carriage of grain from points in Alberta to Fort William. During a part of last winter the railway companies operating in Alberta refused to carry grain to Fort William, although they would take it to the interior elevators. I would like to know under what conditions that refusal was made?

Sir George Foster: If the railway companies refused to take grain, I suppose they refused to take it on the ground that all railway companies refuse at certain times of congestion to add to the congestion by piling more grain into cars which cannot find an ultimate resting place to be unloaded, and the cars get back again. When you have congestion towards the front, and that congestion becomes so great that if you pile more freight in, it simply adds to the difficulty, then as a matter of sensible haulage the railway company says: "We cannot take any more until this forward portion is relieved. Last year there was this congestion of freight from New York, Baltimore, Boston, and Portland. The freight was piled up along thousands of miles and every storage facility was filled to the very roof.
Finally, it became necessary that these embargoes should be put on. The embargo is a part of the system of railway transport, and although it may be unsatisfactory for the person who has a car of grain and wants it taken at a certain time, in the end it works out for better transportation in general."

Mr. Oliver: I shall have to take issue with the minister on that point.
I would like to know, if I can tell me—and if he cannot the Minister of Railways is beside him and may be able to give the information—whether the railway companies refused on their own initiative to haul the grain, or if they did it under authority from any department of the Government, or if any commission acting for the Government?

Sir George Foster: So far as I know the embargo was on, and I received notice of it. As soon as I was notified, I immediately took the question up to see what could be done in order to relieve conditions. I got in touch with the man who is best able to take a general view of the matter, and having general authority, to bring order out of confusion and to regulate so that the best haulage might be had.
He went into the question thoroughly with the railway companies, and they did the best they could.

Mr. Oliver: The minister has not mentioned the name of this gentleman.

Sir George Foster: Sir Henry Drayton.

Mr. Oliver: Was the course followed by the railway companies taken with the authority of the Railway Commission?

Sir George Foster: I am informed that the railway companies acted on the basis of a general view of the matter, and having general authority, to bring
order out of confusion and to regulate
so that the best haulage might be had.

Mr. Oliver: If they did it with the authority of the Railway Commission, the people who were affected will have to defend the railway companies in court for the consequences they have suffered.

Sir George Foster: I do not know whether the railway companies are responsible for the consequences they
have suffered.

Mr. Oliver: That is the question I have to make. I wish to put the case to the Government as forcibly as I can. The railway companies are responsible for the consequences they
have suffered.

SENSATIONAL WIN BY N.W.B. OVER THE G.W.G.

Score When Darkness Stopped Play 9-3; At End Of Fifth, 7 To 0.

LEAGUE STANDING

	W.	L.	Pct.
Esdales	6	3	.667

N. W. Biscuit	5	5	.500

The Northwest Biscuits defeated the Great West Garments to the tune of 9 to 3 in a good game at Diamond Park. As darkness prevented the sixth inning being completed, the score for the official record must revert to what it stood at at the end of the fifth, 7 to 0.

The play was even up to the fifth inning, when Nehring, who was pitching for the G. W. G., went up in the air and allowed seven runs to cross the pan.

Coleman, who was first at bat, drew a walk and scored when Brunner pounded out a three bagger. Nelson struck out and Kelley singled, bringing in Brunner. Snyder grounded and reached first on Powers' error. Dodge next up hit a clean single, scoring Kelley and Snyder. Philips reached first and Rainier whiffed. Muirhead had no mercy on the pill and drove out a pretty three bagger and scored on a pass ball. Coleman struck out, ending a disastrous innings for the G. W. G.

In the sixth the N. W. B. scored 2 and the G. W. G. three, until the game was called on account of darkness, as the game reverted back to the fifth inning, leaving the score 7-0.

Dodge, pitching for the N. W. B., was in excellent form. He fanned 11 men, walked none and allowed only three hits.

One unusual feature of the game was that all the "put-outs" on the Garments side were made by Baxter, 1b., and Nichol, c.

The game tomorrow evening is Esdales vs. Capitals.

Sporting Facts and Fancies

A comedian on the road scouting for the Giants ought to attract a lot of talent. Germany Schaefer is snoop around the minors hoping to get a rookie or two for John McGraw. Maybe he can pick up a vaudeville team.

It's better to be born lucky than handsome, but Tex Jones got away with both. Not content with placing him at the top of the Western League hitters, fortune helped him strike oil on some land he owns near Wichita; then the Wichita club granted his request to be relieved of the management of that tail-end outfit. Gee, some people have all the luck!

If inches will help them any, the Cubs ought to do big things with that new six-foot pitcher of theirs, Stoiles, who has just been signed on from the La Crosse team of the Central Association.

Yeoman Jack Barry, also known to fame as Manager Barry of the Boston Americans, has signed up for service with Uncle Sam. The Naval Reserve ought to develop some good ball teams when the season ends.

Baseball of the Vintage of '76.
Those who were able to sit up and take notice in the year 1876 probably remember the "Noisy Nine" baseball club of Taylorsville, Pa., which several years ago issued a challenge to play a series of games with any club of the vintage of '76. The challenge was, unfortunately, not accepted by any one, and that is a great pity, for the game would have had of the interest of a visit to a museum of antiquities. It is doubtful whether the present day fan, seeing a game played under the rules that governed in those days, would recognize the game as baseball.

In 1876 the National League has just been launched, and baseball was entering the era of commercialism that would soon concentrate most of the crack players in the big cities. Before that, however, many small cities and towns had nine teams that were able to play the game with the crack organizations of the great cities. Besides the "Noisy Nine" of Taylorsville, the famous clubs of 1876 included the Troy Haymakers, the Rockford, Ill., Forest City, the Fort Wayne, Ind., Pastimes and the Lynn, Mass., Live Oaks. This by no means exhausts the list, for there were good clubs scattered all over the United States and Canada, and each big city had a number of nines, between whom there was bitter rivalry. It was in the early seventies that baseball began to assume its present form. The overhand pitching rules were revised at this period, and then commenced the science of twirling as it is known today. Before that the function of the moundman was to pitch in such a manner that the batter could hit the ball, which accounts for the tremendous scores of those days. The batter would stroll to the plate, remarking: "Please send one over a little above the knee, and not very fast." Whereupon the pitcher would attempt to oblige him, and if he failed to deliver the ball as the batter requested, a ball was called on him for his wisdom. (Now you stop your laughing). At about the same time a revolutionary rule was adopted forcing base runners to actually touch the bags, instead of merely running near them. (Yep, those were the good old days!)

Today in Pugilistic Annals.
1883—"Brooklyn Jimmy" Carroll defeated seven men in one night at a boxing tournament held in New Jersey. Carroll was employed in the same shop with Jack Dempsey, Jack McAuliffe and Jack Kelly, before any of them entered the ring and in the opinion of many he could have whipped Dempsey and won the world's middleweight title, except that his great friendship for the latter prevented him from agreeing to such a match. Carroll defeated most of the good middleweights of his time except Dempsey. His "seven-man" fight was his debut, and for this feat he received the great sum of $25, or $4 was each man he licked.

1895—Tommy White defeated Billy O'Donnell in 20 rounds at Sioux City.

1903—Hugh McPadden and Eddie Santry fought a ten-round draw at Indianapolis.

1905—Kid Herman defeated Charley Neary in ten rounds at Denver.

1912—Harry Thomas defeated Frankie Conley in twenty rounds at San Francisco.

HARVEST GALE, OUTSIDER, GETS FIRST MONEY

Bertha Dillon, Favorite, Broke Badly—Busy's Lassie Also Beaten.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—The three year old trotting stakes furnished the thrill in today's Grand Circuit meeting at North Randall, Mich. Bertha Dillon, the favorite, broke badly in the first heat, but won in the second and in the third was trotted off her feet by Harvest Gale, who won the first and also the final heats, taking first money.

The 2:11 trot also furnished considerable excitement, as Early Dreams won in straight heats. Busy's Lassie, the favorite, not being even in the money.

The 2:15 pace was a hot battle between Butte Hale and Nan Hedgewood, the former, however, winning in straight heats. Butte Hale yesterday won the 2:19 pace.

The Toddler, the favorite in the 2:13 trot, gave his backers a bad scare when he broke badly in the first heat, but he straightened out in the next and won the race handily.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

Uncle Wiggily and Susie's Doll.

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Oh, Lulu! Oh, Alice! Can't you come out and play? Can't you come over to my house?"

Susie Littleall, the bunny rabbit girl, was calling out in front of the pen where Lulu and Alice Wiggibobbles the duck girls lived.

"Yes, you may go over and play a while with Susie," said Mrs. Wiggibobble, the duck lady. "But don't get in Mrs. Littleall's way, and come home to dinner."

"We will," promised Lulu.

"And we'll take our dolls and have a play party," added Alice.

Soon the two little duck girls and Susie Littleall were having a fine time on the porch of the rabbit house. They were playing with their dolls, when all at once Susie cried:

"Oh, dear! Oh, look what happened!"

"What's the matter?" asked Lulu.

"Why, my doll's arms and legs have dropped right off!" went on Susie. "The must be awful sick! I'll have to take her to Dr. Possum at once."

"Oh, my!" quipped Lulu and Alice. "It was true. The arms and legs of Mary Planoplayer Belmar which was the name of Susie's doll, had dropped off her body."

"Here comes Uncle Wiggily in his automobile," said Alice as she looked down the path through the woods. "Ask him to take you and your doll to Dr. Possum in his machine. Susie, you'll get there ever so much faster."

"I will," said Susie. So, when the bunny rabbit gentleman, who was out looking for an adventure, came near enough, Susie called:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! My doll's arms and legs have dropped off! And will you please take her to Dr. Possum in your automobile? I'll hold her in my lap!"

"Why, yes, Susie," answered the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I'll do anything for you or your doll. But there is no use taking her to Dr. Possum. He is not at home, for I just saw him going down the road to bring some medicine to Johnny Bushytail, the squirrel boy, who has the toothache."

"Then who will cure Mary, my poor doll?" said Susie, and tears came into her pink eyes.

Letters to Uncle Tom

Is Making Hay
Dear Uncle Tom—Am sorry I have not written before, but I have been so busy helping in haying, I have been raking and mowing hay. There are lots of raspberries now. They are getting too ripe almost. There are not hardly any saskatoons this year. Our school started on Monday. I can't start for a week or two yet. I have to help with haying. We have sixteen little pigs and four little kittens. They are very nice. We had a rain shower last night, so I cannot rake hay this morning. Well, I must close for this time. I am too busy to write much.

Perinosh, August 13.

Visits Edmonton

Dear Uncle Tom—If I would sit down and scribble a few lines to you, I hope to see this letter in print. Tomorrow morning, I am going to give a circus, and at six o'clock I am going to get up to watch them unload, with a ticket in my pocket. On Friday of the next week I am going to Edmonton with my sister Grace for two or three days. I am going to come back in a car. I have not much more to tell you, so I will have to close. I will write next September. I am too busy to write much.

Perinosh, August 13.

Father in France

Dear Uncle Tom—It has been raining today. The raspberries are beginning to ripen and I am going to pick some tomorrow. It is a nice day. On Sunday I had a picture taken and we all went to Sunday school. I am feeling well. My sisters and brothers are feeling well.

Dusseldorf, August 6.

Had New Potatoes

Dear Uncle Tom—We have got new potatoes. It is a long time since I have written to you. I am feeling well. I will tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the clam chowder.

Holden, August 7.

Antwerp, Prize in Many Conflicts

Few other cities of the world have found so varied a history as Antwerp, the city of dikes and the principal port of Belgium, which has been in possession of the Germans since Oct. 9, 1914. The occupation of Antwerp by the Germans added another chapter to the city's record of sieges, for it has been taken many times in the conflicts of the past. The most noteworthy of the sieges of Antwerp, and the first in modern times, was that which culminated in the capture of the city by the Prince of Parma 322 years ago today, Aug. 17, 1585. On that day a tiny republic in the eleventh century, for centuries Antwerp, which means "at the wharf," was the commercial metropolis of Europe. In the sixteenth century it attained its greatest splendor and prosperity, and ships from every part of the world sailed to the Scheldt. A city so important and rich was coveted by many nations. Napoleon, in the latter half of the sixteenth century, the Duke of Alva sought to place the business of the city in the hands of the Spaniards, and expelled thousands of native merchants. The Spanish soldiers ruled as tyrants, burning and pillaging as they pleased. Then came the "great siege," which resulted in the capture of Antwerp by the Prince of Parma. It was an empty victory, however, for during the years of oppression Antwerp had lost most of its trade, and its population had dwindled from 150,000 to less than 40,000. The final blow to Antwerp's greatness came in 1648, when the imposition of a toll on the Scheldt practically shut off Antwerp from seagoing vessels. In 1746 the city was taken by the French, but it had been reduced to a mere squalid village, and its commercial supremacy was but a memory. It remained until 1792, when it was again occupied by the French. They withdrew the following year, but returned in 1794, and Napoleon maintained power he recognized the importance of Antwerp, and rebuilt its wharves and revived its commerce. In 1814 the allies besieged Antwerp, and after a brave defense by General Carnot, the city was surrendered to General Graham of the British army. After the downfall of Napoleon, Antwerp, which had been awarded to the Netherlands in 1830, when the new government of Belgium was set up, the city was claimed by the Belgians, and it was not relinquished by the Dutch until after a fierce engagement. Then a new era of prosperity began for Antwerp, although the Dutch sought to hinder its growth on several occasions by closing the Scheldt. At the time of the outbreak of the war now raging in Europe Antwerp had a population of 400,000, and it was again the great clearing house for central Europe, while its industries flourished as never before. The German occupation has changed all this, and with its commerce gone and its population dwindling, Antwerp is once more a city of desolation.

Farmers' Institutes.

The first farmers' institutes in America owed their inspiration to Peter Collier, a scientist and student of agriculture, who came to Canada in 1882, and who has since been in New York, Massachusetts and Michigan. Earlier attempts had been made to found such institutes, but the scheme materialized on a practical scale under Collier's guidance. The movement was popular from the first, and such institutes are now held in practically every agricultural state in the union and in Canada, to the great benefit of farmers and stock raisers. The state and provincial organizations have stimulated the local societies, and have thus brought the institute almost to the farmer's door. While many agriculturalists were at first inclined to regard the "newfangled" methods of farming, the great majority of farmers of today have been impressed with the fact that they may obtain substantial gain from the experiments of those to whom farming is a science rather than a hit or miss occupation.
